

Department at a Glance:

The Department of Economics, Cinnamara College came into being with the very inception of the College. In the beginning Economics was taught as elective subject. With the increase in the number of students and responding to the demand of time the College got permission for opening major course in Economics in the year 1999. The first batch of students came out successfully in the year 2002. Since then, a number of students have been being offered Economics as major subject. Now as the undergraduate CBCS programme is at par in all over the country, students will be immensely benefited to gather knowledge about the subject equally with the students of other part of India. This will help them to be prepared for higher education, national competitive examination, research-oriented work and students will be able to get equal job opportunities along with job seekers around the country. The programme is such that students can choose any of the subject of their choice, may it be from any stream which is of utmost importance to unlock the potential of students for they will find interest in the subject of their choice that will help them to build the future career. In view of such a perspective the Department of Economics plays a vital role in offering major as well as elective course in the College.
